To whom it may concern,

I am interested in applying for a teaching position in South Korea to develop my skills and experience in the field of education. I enjoy being creative and desire to motivate students of all ages to learn effectively and efficiently through stimulating and engaging lessons. I have excellent interpersonal skills and can communicate well at all levels and ages. Enthusiastic and reliable, I remain committed to further improving my teaching abilities and contributing to the school's success. I am confident that I will be a valuable addition to the team.

I am currently working at Steamoji Richmond Central, where I manage and teach the staff team and children (ages 5-13) about the Steamoji curriculum. As a recent graduate from the University of British Columbia, I studied Psychology and Education (Interpersonal Development), which allowed me to better understand human development. I have substantial experience working with children at Thriving Kids Care Society, whereby I planned, led, and taught daily activities to the children, maintaining classroom management. My social skills developed from working in day camp and customer service settings will be essential to interacting and communicating with youth, families, staff, and the community. Based on my volunteer work, I also have prior experience working with students ages 6-12 at Richmond Chinese MB Church and Cambie Community Centre, where I assisted in planning and organizing various lesson programs and activities for the children.

The opportunity to teach abroad in South Korea will help expand my work experience and increase my knowledge and understanding of psychology, education, and human development. My ability to interact and build relationships with others and ensure their safety and well-being will be essential to the team. I also hope to gain valuable experience and independence by supporting and motivating others to develop greater wellness, knowledge, and relationships. I am confident I can fulfill all duties and responsibilities assigned to the best of my ability.

I am a positive and diligent worker who is willing to discover more about the world and future possibilities. I would very much like the opportunity to discuss my application with you further during the interview. Thank you for taking the time to review my cover letter and resume, and I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Shaina Pang
